

Massachusetts Staffing Employee Week Recognition Dinner

In conjunction with Massachusetts Staffing Employee Week, the Massachusetts Staffing Association hosted its annual Employee of the Year recognition dinner at the exclusive Harvard Club in Boston on September 20, 2007. Staffing agencies throughout Massachusetts joined together to pay tribute to the men and women who keep our industry thriving: the temporary employees.

Deven Clarke of Revere, MA was TRC's nominee for Staffing Employee of the Year. Deven started working for TRC in 2002, working on various assignments during school breaks as a way to gain office experience. In 2005, he graduated from Tulane University and has chosen to remain working as a temporary because of the flexibility it offers. Deven consistently exceeds our customers' expectations and is requested back on a regular basis.

Deven and the entire staff of TRC enjoyed a sumptuous meal at the prestigious Harvard Club. The event will long be remembered by all who attended. Congratulations to Deven Clarke, TRC's Staffing Employee of the Year for 2007.

Nominees for Staffing Employee of the Year